It's not exactly the right season for football games, the wind did its best to stop it, but the West Texas State Buffaloes went right ahead Saturday afternoon and played a game between the five squads so the coaches would have an idea of how the various players would perform in a game. One nice thing about the intersquad game—the Buffaloes won.

School Board Considers Proposals For Changes in Graduation Needs

Policies of requiring more credits for graduation and physical education for all students is being studied by the Canyon school board. The proposed policies were submitted at the regular school board meeting Tuesday night.

If the policies are adopted, beginning next fall all entering freshmen will need 20 credits before they can be graduated four years later. The school requires 17 now. The freshmen will also start taking a new course, Health and Safety Education, which will include health, general safety, physical education and the textbook phase of driver education training.

Other proposed policy changes include the granting of a full credit for band or choir rather than the half-credit required now. If the requirement for 20 credits is adopted, students will be required to take four in English, three in social studies, two in mathematics above general math, two in science (students may substitute two years of vocational agriculture or two years of homemaking for general science), four in physical education, and sufficient electives to make up the necessary 20 credits.

Other changes proposed are that beginning next fall, no exemptions will be permitted on any grade level, the all-school picnic will be discontinued, that students will dress up before attending All School parties, and that the school shall continue the policy of providing a reception for the graduating class immediately after the graduation exercises, thus ending the school's responsibility for entertaining the graduates.

The proposals to end exemptions and the all-school picnic were offered to the board because of state requirements on average daily attendance. High School Principal J. E. Miller said that students who are exempted from a final examination cannot be counted as present in school that day, and that if the all-school picnic is continued, an extra day must be put into the school calendar for the picnic.

The board did not adopt any of the policies, but received the report for further study.

In other action the board offered new contracts to each teacher in the school system, and approved the continued employment of the present secretaries, custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria workers.

The board also approved the report of the text book committee and heard a final census report by Lee Foster. The members discussed the probable need for at least one additional first grade teacher next year, and a need for another first grade room.

The Time Has Come

Water temperatures are just a bit low for fish to start biting, but that doesn't stop a determined angler. On pretty afternoons, the banks of creeks in the area have a lonely fisherman hard at work, and Buffalo Lake is beginning to get a workout.

Religious Emphasis Series Begins With Lectures Set Every Morning

Spiritual maturation is needed to handle the multitude of problems of a modern world, Dr. Louis H. Evans told a capacity audience for the opening address of the annual Willson Lecture Series Tuesday at West Texas State College. The series continues daily through Friday.

"We are living in a day when we can read the signs in the skies, but we are miffing badly the signs of the heart," Dr. Evans said. "Our souls must catch up with our brains."

The speaker appeared for the second address on "What Do You Believe?" Wednesday morning in the Administration Building auditorium. He will address a community service Wednesday at 8 p. m. on "Are You Living Yet?" Presiding will be the Rev. Donald Price, president of the Canyon Ministerial Alliance.

Dr. Evans will appear for a number of speaking engagements in Canyon while he will also lead discussions for evening bull sessions and vesper services on the campus. He will show a movie made by Christian athletes, called "Let's Play Ball" at the Wednesday service.

Dr. Evans said that science and its advancements have made us aware of the "signs in the skies," but that "we need to look beyond" into heaven. He pointed to Nazi Germany as the epitome of "science without God."

City Names New Chief of Police

A new chief of police was appointed by the Canyon City Commission Friday. He is L. D. Caldwell, who was a chief of police here for 10 months in 1953, and has been a Randall County deputy sheriff since that time.

Caldwell served as a Randall County deputy for a short time before becoming Canyon chief in 1953. Earlier he was on the Amarillo police and fire departments, and was in private business.

A native of Breckenridge, the new chief served in the amphibious forces of the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

Also on the Canyon police force are Mrs. Caldwell, whose duty is directing traffic at the elementary school, and Calvin Costley, patrolman.

Chief Caldwell replaces Max D. McNutt, who resigned March 5.

Garden Club Needs Flower Gifts For Planting Area in City Park

A call for floral donations to Conner Park has been issued by the Canyon Garden Club, according to C. R. Hillier, president.

"We would rather have cuttings and bulbs than money," Hillier said.

The Garden Club is planting flowers in the northeast corner of the park, around the dedication monument. Landscape plans call for roses, gladioli, chrysanthemums, irises, poppies and other perennial flowers.

Anyone wishing to donate may call Hillier at OL5-2141 or OL5-3706. The club has invited other clubs to join them in the project.

"The Canyon Jaycees have already joined by donating a flag to the park. The Garden Club would like to thank them for their cooperation," he said.

He said the club wanted to thank Herschell Stevens, Archie Dean Davis, Archie Davis and all the city employees who helped transfer evergreen trees and shrubs to the area. Appreciation should also go to the Cub Scouts, the Boy Scouts and the City Commission for their cooperation.

People who are being asked to serve as consultants on different varieties are Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Callarman, gladioli and daylilies; Mrs. Bill Downing, iris; Mrs. K. E. Hines and Mrs. Jeannette Robbins, chrysanthemums; Mrs. T. A. Black, Mrs. W. A. Warren and Mrs. Clyde Warwick, roses; and S. B. Orton, dahlias.

Slime Is His Name

How far should people go in offering forgiveness, and in what circumstances should it be offered? When a person has trespassed on a great number of people, should a smaller group offer the forgiveness—or does the smaller group have a right to offer forgiveness?

And more, where does loyalty lie? In public affairs, should the people be loyal to officials, or should officials be loyal to the people?

Crosby County is going through a period when considerable soul-searching should be going on. And their trials should give all of us a lesson. The story is this:

Their sheriff, Slime Herrington, stole public money. When he was caught recently, he resigned and paid back the amount he was caught with. The grand jury in the county indicted him on five counts, and the commissioners court ordered an audit. The grand jury is waiting the results of the audit before passing further indictments.

Herrington lives in Lorenzo, one of the three towns in the county. (Crosbyton is the county seat, and Ralls is the third town.)

The commissioners court appointed one of the deputies as sheriff to finish out Herrington's term. The new sheriff wanted to hire the city marshal in Lorenzo as a deputy, and the marshal quit his Lorenzo job in anticipation of the new appointment.

The commissioners court hired the marshal and the Lorenzo job was opened. Some of the citizens in Lorenzo circulated a petition to hire Herrington as city marshal, and gained 140 signatures. Lorenzo is a town of about 1500 people, and that many signatures is pretty near a mandate.

The Lorenzo city council hired Herrington as city marshal by a vote of 3-2. The people who backed Herrington made a number of statements. They said things like, "He's a home town boy . . . He's a good, honest man . . . Don't kick a man when he's down . . . He needs help . . . We were thinking about his folks, his family, his brothers and sisters. Maybe this will help them and him, too."

The marshal job in Lorenzo is a co-operative affair. The city pays $150 a month for the salary. Lorenzo merchants put up another portion of the salary money. Ironically, Crosby County pays a part of the salary as compensation for the marshal operating the county-wide two-way radio system.

The petition to hire Herrington was signed by a majority of the businessmen who put up money for the marshal's salary. That probably had a lot to do with the council hiring Herrington.

The action has this appearance on its face: The city of Lorenzo has placed an official approval on Herrington, and has officially shown that it trusts Herrington even though he had shown he was not worthy of trust. The petition signed by the people offered Herrington forgiveness—although Herrington's trespass was against all law abiding people of Crosby County. Indeed, the trespass was against all law abiding citizens of the state, because Herrington was an officer of the state.

The official action of the city council and the private action of 140 people in the town showed their loyalty to the "hometown boy." The hometown boy, of course, has not shown much loyalty to his hometown or his home county.

We wonder how safe the people of Lorenzo will feel, now that they have a confessed thief as a police officer. We wonder how the officer will be able to do his job. We doubt if any citizen who might be arrested will feel that he should be punished.

The Crosby County attorney has said that he doubts if a trial will convict Herrington of his confessed crimes, because the action of the Lorenzo city officials will constitute as good a character reference as any man could want. The man might be convicted, but a suspended sentence is almost sure to follow.

This far away, we doubt that our observations will have any effect. We feel compelled to observe, however, and to try to relate the situation in Crosby County to the situation in Randall County.

Slime Herrington's theft of public money is reprehensible. But he committed a greater crime, to our mind. He stole the public's trust, or maybe we should say he spurned the public's trust.

Until he has done something to regain the public trust, he has no right to any public consideration. We don't know what he could do to regain that trust. Maybe he should be taken to trial, convicted, serve a sentence and then work to gain the trust. But we doubt that he has regained the public trust in Crosby County yet.

To our knowledge, none of the officials in Randall County have stolen any money or property. But some of our officials are spurning the public trust, right along. They don't pay their full attention to public affairs, to the conduct of their offices. That's not a crime, but it is a betrayal of public trust.

The people of Crosby County should be outraged at the action of the Lorenzo city council. The people of Randall County should be outraged because of their betrayal by their elected officials.

But all of us will probably go on our simple, apathetic way, and this has been a lot of bother anyhow.

Watch It, Amarillo

Lubbock is about to get ahead of Amarillo. The two cities have a running battle about population and any number of other aspects of life.

But Lubbock is just about to have a new facility that will be so far advanced that Amarillo will have a time catching up.

Soon to be established in Lubbock is a cemetery devoted to pets. An announcement advertisement in the Lubbock paper advises that soon a beautiful, permanent pet cemetery will be available, and it will offer a "proper place for interment of pets for masters who care enough."

Amarillo has a service station (out on Northwest Eighth) that has a fenced in fire plug for dogs that are traveling with their masters, but a cemetery for pets—well . . .

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Dave McReynolds in the Friona Star: We got a first-hand account of how the Friona State Bank's new night deposit system operates this past week, and believe you me, it really works.

When you put something down that slot it is really safe—so safe to be sure that at times it is rather difficult for anyone to get at it.

Charles Allen was showing us how the night depository worked Monday morning and we stood outside and during the conversation Charles dropped an envelope down the slide to show us how, and what, happened when it got inside the bank.

We walked on into the building and as we walked up to the safe where the deposits come inside the bank a blank look came over Charles' face.

I laughed at him at the way he stopped up so short and asked laughingly if he had lost the combination to the safe.

You guessed it!

He had! The "envelope" which he dropped down the slide in the night deposit unit was the combination to the safe.

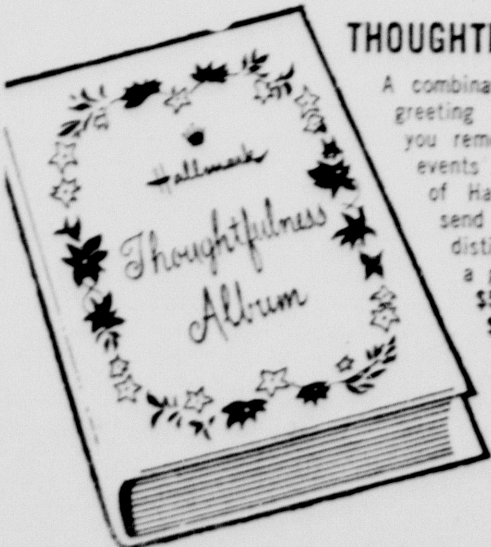

Upon inquiry, Charles said that he hadn't had time to memorize the combination, having only received it a short time before, and it was in that envelope. We got so tickled at Charles' expression and embarrassment that we walked out of the bank, forgetting about making a deposit, which we had made a special trip over to the bank for, so guess the old adage about "he who laughs last, laughs loudest" is true most every time.

THE CANYON NEWS

I GIVE YOU
TEXAS
By BOYCE HOUSE

It was in November of 1920 and I was on a train bound for Laredo when the brakeman came through and asked each passenger if he wanted "dinner" (the noon meal) at Cotulla, there being no diner on the train. Nearly everyone said "Yes" and he wired the number so the hotel would know how many to prepare for.

We hurried across a vacant lot and in at a back door of the Travelers' Hotel and there were long tables filled with dishes of fried steak, gravy, hot biscuits, frijoles and other home-cooked viands.

I went on to Laredo and, being so far from home for the first time and hearing Spanish almost entirely, became homesick—I was 23. Further, there were three days of chill and rain and I thought fondly of that meal at Cotulla and the home-like atmosphere, and decided to return, which I did.

There I slept on the screened-in porch upstairs, drank half a gallon of sweet milk a day, loafed, took a siesta nearly every afternoon and talked with traveling salesmen after supper. The water was marvelous, with a soft taste, and one never seemed to get enough of it.

I had the sensation of having been there before and I mentioned this to Owen Widener, son of the middle-aged couple who owned the hotel, which was operated by their daughter, motherly, energetic, always cheerful.

Owen asked, "Did you ever hear of O. Henry?"

Of course I had read his stories and then Owen said that, when the future author was a youth, he came to LaSalle County on account of his health and had spent two years or so on a ranch. Some of his stories dealt with that region and that explained why I felt that I had been there before.

It was remarkable that, purely by chance, I had come to the same county that O. Henry had—and for the same reason.

During his days in LaSalle County, Will Porter (which was his real name, of course) had come into Cotulla frequently for groceries and it pleased me to wander past old buildings that had been there in his time, one of which had been a saloon which he had patronized. This building still bore, in faded letters, "Saloon" though no longer used—in fact, national prohibition was then the law of the land. Of a morning, before the sun became too ardent, I liked to roam through the Mexican part of town, where dogs dozed in the shade in clean-swept yards and mesquite smoke perfumed the air.

In such surroundings, I re-read O. Henry and perused much of Mark Twain for the first time.

The hotel owners were receiving an impressive income, not so much from us "regulars"—(I think I paid $10 a week for room and board)—but from the passengers of the two trains who dined there every day. The couple had purchased a set of Mark Twain and also Stoddard's Travels but the pages of most of the volumes had not been cut until I did so.

The first Sunday afternoon I was there, pistol shots rang out. Thoughts of a gun-fight leaped into my mind but the shots proved to be a "fire alarm" as the town did not have a fire whistle.

It was interesting to look in at the passengers as they dined. One day, a diner was the governor-elect of Texas who had just defeated the fabulous Jo Bailey. I peered in and saw a man with features like a Greek statue. Later, I came to know Pat M. Neff rather well and to count him a friend.

Jealousy is probably the most destructive of all the little-league sins. We refer to that type known as "unpleasant suspicion of the faithfulness of husband, wife or lover."

In a supermarket one day, we passed a couple at the meat counter who were kidding around and having themselves a ball, but we thought nothing of it — until we rounded the cereal shelves and saw the man's other half. She was going through the formality of testing oranges and dropping them into a sack. Actually, she was stepping out cautiously where she could watch the horseplay — and suffer. We had never seen any of the three before, but it was easy to size up the situation. All were in their thirties, and just plain ordinary folks.

Several months later, we met the husband-wife team at a public reception. This time they seemed surface-happy, although she was still watchful — and the girl friend of the grocery store was not around. Could be she had grounds for doubts; could be she imagined them.

The same instincts that make a mate show jealousy could just as easily be turned to improving a marriage. They mean, "I love you, I want to keep you." And that's flattering to any husband or wife. Slanted wrong, these instincts seem unattractive, possessive, distrustful. Aimed with intelligence, they simply alert the victim to danger: "If I'm good company, he won't have to seek elsewhere to build up his ego." "She likes compliments, eh? Well, she is pretty . . . I'll tell her so!"

Giving husband, wife or lover grounds for jealousy, of course, is big-league stuff. But the petty imaginings of a husband or wife whose mate is just naturally a show-off, or a people-liker, is poor sportsmanship that may lead to something worse.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Spending Issue

I am deeply appreciative of the many letters that I have received recently expressing concern about the fiscal condition of this country. I realize that some of this mail was prompted by organizations here in Washington advising their members to write to their Congressmen and demand cutbacks in spending and cooperation with the President in obtaining a balanced budget.

I point out again, as I did in a previous newsletter, that cooperation with the President does not necessarily mean a balanced budget. If we have a balanced budget this year without raising taxes, it will result from some conflicts with the President rather than cooperation. It is always good to hear from the people at home, and I only wish that they would write more, even when they're not asked to by some organization here in Washington.

Some of these organizations, upon close scrutiny, would appear to be riding the same horse in several directions at the same time. They are saying, "cut expenditures," but what they mean is, "cut expenditures on all projects except those that affect our members." It is this last philosophy and the real one that many of them espouse which has caused an increase in the public debt in the past six years of more than 19 billions of dollars, and the expenditure of many more billions in increased taxes that should have been paid on the public debt.

A great many government expenditures—especially in the Defense Department—are tied in directly with the interests of certain industrial and business facets of our economy. Human nature being what it is, this accounts for the "cut everybody but us" philosophy, which accounts for the figures that I have gathered together on a few of the subjects involved and pass on to you.

The gross public debt of the United States on Feb. 19, 1959, stood at 285 billion 91 million 705 thousand 969 dollars. On Jan. 1, 1959, the population of the continental United States, including the armed forces overseas, stood at 175 million 602 thousand.

This means that every man, woman and child constituting the population of this country, owes $1,624. At the rate of increase of the public debt, compared with the rate of increase of the population, it also means that every child born owes about $1,624, one cent more or less. Many of us are happy that our forefathers had the foresight to forbid imprisonment for debt; otherwise, many of the children born today would go from the delivery room to the jail, where they would find plenty of us grownups waiting for them. In addition to the debt, it might also be well to point out that for the fiscal year of 1958, every man, woman and child had to cough up the sum of $43.32 in interest charges for the use of the $1,624 they didn't realize they owed in the first place.

In addition, it might also be well to point out that they are going to have to cough up an additional $439 to pay for the 1960 budget that the President submitted to Congress in the sum of 77 billion 30 million dollars.

According to the Civil Service Commission, as of December, 1958, there were 2 million 683 thousand 875 civilian employees in the federal government who received for the calendar year 1958 the sum of 11 billion 888 million 169 thousand dollars.

It is reported that as of June 30, 1958, the federal government owned 769 million 717 thousand 114.3 acres of real property, not including the properties managed by the Architect of the Capitol and those held in trust by the U. S. government. 408 million 190 thousand 737.7 of these acres were in the United States. 361 million 526 thousand 376.6 acres were outside the United States.

The acres owned inside the United States would appear to most people to be far too much land to be in the hands of the federal government, but I hasten to explain that this land includes all of the public parks, as well as the mountain tops, swamps and desert lands that individuals would not care to own because they would be of no earthly use. It is simply a case of the government owning a great many acres of land because there is no one else to hold title to it.

A far more disturbing situation is presented by the figures revealing the rental paid by the government for property during the fiscal year 1957. This amounted to 109 million 100 thousand dollars for property rented in the U. S.; 1 million 600 thousand dollars for property rented in the territories and possessions of the U. S.; and 19 million 500 thousand for property in foreign countries.

This makes a grand total of 130 million 200 thousand dollars that the government paid in rent during that fiscal year for the use of property, in addition to government-owned property.

Another item that disturbs me somewhat is the report on the number of automobiles owned by the federal government, not including trailers and semi-trailers or vehicles used for tactical or construction jobs. As of June 30, 1958, civilian agencies of the government owned 116 million 213 thousand automobiles. The military agencies owned 108 million 743 thousand. This makes a grand total of 224 million 956 thousand.

City Dads Write Letter to People

A letter telling of the financial condition of Canyon has been sent by the City Commission to the citizens of the city. The letter was mimeographed and signed by Mayor Charles Donnell and by Commissioners Lowell Harrison and John P. Taylor.

The letter is dated March 14, and reads:

"As we start the next fiscal year, we are happy to report that considerable progress has been made in improving the city's financial condition. The required interest and sinking fund for tax bond payments has been set up in the amount of $44,885, and the $15,000 which had to be borrowed to meet heavy bond payments in October was repaid before Christmas. One of our heavy charges remains the payments of interest and principal on the city's debt of $1,109,000. This amounts to $96,567 each year — nearly a third of the total revenue available for the entire operation of the city. We didn't expect to catch up in one year, but the city's financial condition is steadily improving. But taxes and water rates must remain the same for another year, and tight spending will have to continue until growth of the city gives additional revenue. We will have very limited funds available this year for the many improvements which are needed. We hope to be able to start on a few of the most urgent projects, but most of them will have to wait until more money is available. If our plans work out as we hope, we will complete the year without having to borrow, and the next Commission will be able to start more improvements without having to resort to deficit spending.

As of March 1, tax collections, one of our major sources of revenue, amounted to $109,000, this being 91.25 per cent of the amount due. Delinquent taxes are increasing each year. It appears that the same people are riding on the shirt tails of others, and our next audit will show around $21,000 in delinquent taxes. There seems to be no alternative other than to bring suits against those who have not paid.

"You may be interested in this fact, which has surprised a number of citizens to whom we have talked. City property taxes make up only about 36 per cent of the total amount of money necessary to operate our city. If it were not for the revenue from water, sewer and allied services, the city would not be able to finance its necessary activities at the current tax rate. It is necessary to borrow from the water fund to make up the annual deficit in the general revenue fund.

"We hope that you will support the home rule charter which will soon be submitted for your approval. The changes would result in so little additional expense that these changes would not make it necessary to increase taxes or charges for city services. We feel that the charter will enable us to do a much better job of operating the city now, and it will place Canyon in a much better position to deal successfully with the problems which will arise with the future growth of our city.

"The welfare of any city depends primarily on the interest and participation of its citizens. We hope to receive your continued support and understanding during the year ahead."

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schrib and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hamblen visited in Clovis Sunday.

Final closeout on special group of LP Albums at $1.98 each; regular $3.98 and $4.98 values. H. R.'s

Farmers Attend Austin Session

Five Randall County farmers are in Austin this week attending sessions of the state legislature. Albert Craig is representing the county and local dairy association before the Senate subcommittee hearing on animal health. The committee's primary concern is brucellosis in cattle.

They will return from the three-day trip tomorrow.

POOLE'S FARM & RANCH SUPPLY

Hereford Highway
Canyon, Texas

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

If you can't beat it, don't knock it.

That sentiment, in varying forms, is being often expressed by legislators struggling to write tax bills to fill the yawning holes in the state's money supply.

People who come before the Legislature to oppose a money-raising proposal usually get a tart invitation to come up with a better one.

Opponents of a tobacco tax plan got short shrift before the House Committee. "If you come criticizing, don't you think you should come up with some solution to the tax problem?" asked Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock.

Similarly, anyone who comes to push a money-spending bill is challenged to produce a money-making bill to match it.

Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth drew cheers from fellow House members when he criticized the approach of a teachers' letter writing campaign. Gladden said the teachers had been instructed to ask for higher pay but make no statement on what taxes they would favor.

Rocky Road

Overall, the tax picture is still "all shook up."

Rep. Jamie Clements' bill to remove the tax exemption on cigarettes sold on military bases was sent by the House Taxation Committee to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. Question to Wilson is whether the state can collect a tax from a federal agency.

A proposed liquor tax hike suddenly gained redoubled potency when the sponsor, Rep. Pete LaValle, tacked on an amendment that would legalize liquor-by-the-drink sales. Gov. Daniel, who had urged the original bill, promptly protested. Bill was sent to subcommittee for study.

House Appropriations Committee apparently is taking note of the Tax Committee's rocky road. It is reportedly doing some painful paring of spending requests.

Wide Open Field

Meanwhile, many more "little tax" ideas are swirling about. Most apparently are aimed at avoiding a bitter deadlock over a new "big tax."

Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont introduced a bill to tax gross receipts of scrap metal sales, and Rep. W. T. Oliver, Port Neches, a five per cent gross receipts tax on advertising sold by newspapers, radio and TV stations and billboards. Oliver also is said to be considering taxes on phonograph records and parking lots.

Other possibilities being discussed are (1) a 1.5 per cent general sales tax, exempting food, feed and fertilizer, by Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, (2) an across the board increase in the omnibus tax system which includes almost all present levies, (3) a registration fee for airplanes, similar to auto licensing.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus said he would prefer to raise money through legalized liquor-by-the-drink and horse racing, heavily taxed, than by a general sales tax.

High-Voltage Issue

House State Affairs Committee will take on a supercharged issue this week — the long struggle between private utilities and REA co-ops.

REAs are seeking a law that would assure their being able to continue to operate in a once-rural area after it is annexed by a city. Under the measure sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, the co-ops could serve old customers and recruit new ones for a period of 10 years. After this, a municipal franchise would be required.

Private power companies, offering stiff opposition, say the non-tax-paying co-ops want to spread through the cities, retortize the power industry. Co-ops realize they are the ones being swallowed up — by spreading cities.

Re-Organization Asked

A bill has been introduced to reorganize the State Insurance Department, which was reorganized by the Legislature two years ago.

Rep. George Cook's measure would set up a part-time board of nine members "familiar with the insurance field."

Cook indicated the proposal was in answer to complaints that the present three-member board (1) does not represent industry and (2) serves full-time, contrary to "legislative intent."

Keeping the Sabbath

Sunday beer buying seems likely to continue, but not Sunday auto buying.

A bill to ban beer sales on Sunday and after 10 p. m. on weekdays has been sent to an unfriendly House subcommittee. A spokesman for "drys" irritated committee members from beer-drinking areas by implying use of beer "separated the saved from the unsaved."

Senate Transportation Committee approved the ban of Sunday auto sales, after dealers presented a solid front of support. Only opponents were representatives of Seventh Day Adventists, who observe Saturday as their day of worship.

College Expansion Okayed

Elevation of two junior colleges — Arlington State and John Tarleton — to full four year status has been approved by the House.

Economy advocates protested that "we have 16 fully supported state four-year colleges now — more than any other state."

But supporters replied that no additional appropriation would be needed immediately.

"Little Hoover" Bill

Creation of a state commission to conduct an efficiency study — similar to the Hoover Commission for federal government — has gained House approval.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, sponsor, pointed out that the Hoover Commission resulted in a seven billion dollar savings in its first year.

Opponents protested that Cory commission would be just another money-spending state agency. Cory

Holstein Bulls Receive Rating

Two registered Holstein bulls owned by Louis G. Hinders of Canyon have been rated as preferred pedigree sires—the highest attainable honor in the selective registration program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Palo Duro Duke Ollie 1336931 and Palo Duro Raven 1336868 qualified for the coveted rating on the basis of outstanding performance of their ancestors.

Designed as a means of selecting potentially outstanding young sires, requirements for preferred pedigree include high standards of type and production on both sides of a bull's pedigree.

contended the $100,000 it would cost would be regained many times.

Commission would be made up of one senator, one representative and ten persons from private life.

Highlights Season

Symphony Plays Bright's Music

ONE OF THE SEASON'S highlights for the Amarillo Symphony will occur Tuesday with the premiere performance of Dr. Houston Bright's "Symphony in E Minor." The Symphony will open its program at 8 p. m.

CONDUCTED BY A. Clyde Roller, the Symphony already has premiered one of Dr. Bright's works, when in 1952 the group played his composition, "Symphonic Dance."

DR. BRIGHT'S new symphony is in the usual four movements. The first, poco allegro, is in sonata form, and the second, lento assai, is a slow, pensive song featuring English horn and muted strings. Third movement, minuetto, in "modo poco burlesco," is in classical 18th century minuet form, employing the dissonant language of the 20th century. The last movement, allegro energico, is a modified sonata form in which the development section is actually a fugue.

THE SYMPHONY was begun in the early summer of 1957 and was completed in January. Other performances of the symphony will be made by other orchestras of the nation.

A PROFESSOR of theory and composition at West Texas State College, where he is also director of the A Cappella Choir, Dr. Bright holds the B.S. and M.A. from WT and the Ph.D. from the University of Southern California. He has taught at WT since 1940.

MORE THAN TWO dozen of his works, primarily choral selections and instrumental compositions, have been published. He has also composed for piano and for band.

SWPS To Make Sub-Station Shift Early Sunday Morning in Canyon

Early next Sunday morning, Southwestern Public Service Company will make a change in their operation in Canyon that is planned to take care of considerable growth—and it's probable that no one in Canyon will know the difference.

About 5 a. m., workmen will switch the interchange station at the west end of Canyon from 7,500 KVA to 20,800 KVA. The major change in the installation will be the installation of a new regulator.

The old regulator will be shifted to another position Sunday morning to clear a space for the new one. The new regulator will weigh about 130,000 pounds, and will be installed later.

While the shifting is underway, the power for Canyon through the substation will be shut off. But Canyon will be supplied power through interchanges at Wildorado, Hereford, Happy and Amarillo. When the regulator is shifted, power through the substation will be opened again.

After the new regulator is installed, the connections will be shifted from the old regulator, and it will be moved to Friona to replace a smaller regulator there.

SWPS manager T. G. Hull Jr. said the 7500 KVA regulator was installed about 1950, and was considered big enough to take care of Canyon growth for 20 or 25 years. Power needs have not reached the capacity of the substation yet, but it is expected that the new regulator will take care of the growth of Canyon for another 20 or 30 years.

Another project of the company in this area is the installation of a 230,000-volt transmission line from Plant X near Earth to the new plant being built north of Amarillo. There is now a 115,000-volt transmission line running through the area, but the new line will tie the system together for direct interchange between generating stations.

The company is purchasing right of way for the new line in the county. It will come into Randall County near Umbarger and turn north, heading out of the county in the Bushland area.

Plans call for construction to start soon on the new line, and for it to be completed this summer. The new plant north of Amarillo is not scheduled for completion before 1960.

Arsonist Gets 2-Year Sentence

Two years in the penitentiary were given Donald Gene Peyton, 20, of Amarillo, when he pleaded guilty to arson in 47th District Court Monday.

Peyton admitted setting fire to the R. C. Richardson home in the Palisades on Jan. 14. Judge E. E. Jordan presided at the trial.

See Kreme Kone ad on Page 9.

Erwin Suffers Injury to Eye

Kenneth Erwin suffered an eye injury last week when a flying nail struck his glasses.

He is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Friends here report that he probably has lost part of the sight in his left eye, and perhaps all of it.

He was working on a fence corner Thursday, when a nail glanced off and hit his sun glasses, breaking them. Either the nail or some glass penetrated his left eye.

Wheat Measuring Soon To Be Done

Measuring of wheat planted in Randall County is expected to be completed by the first of April, according to Doyle Thomas, office manager of the ASC office in the county.

At the end of the first week in March, 630 wheat farms had been measured and 214 were left. Measurements had been completed in most parts of the county except the central and southwest.

Producers who have wheat on no-allotment farms should advise the ASC office in order that the acreage can be measured. The office can issue a marketing card when it is needed if the acreage has been previously measured.

Deadline for destroying excess wheat acreage is May 10.

She discussed helpful tools such as a pressing roll, sleeve boards and pressing hams, and told how to make them. For a pressing roll, a magazine about one-half an inch thick may be tightly rolled and taped before being covered with a pad of pocket drill, muslin, or an old sheet.

Mrs. John Bourland and Mrs. Bill Moore announced that a rummage sale would be held in Amarillo in April.

Nine members and Mrs. Hildreth were present. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Earl Marrs and the Greenhaven Home Demonstration Club has been invited.

Court Raises Fence Payment for Farm-to-Market Right of Way

Increased payments for fence moving on farm-to-market right of way acquisitions was voted by the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday. The vote was a tie among the commissioners, and was broken by Judge Roy Joe Stevens. The court will now pay $150 a mile instead of the $75 previously paid. The proposal was offered by Glenn Dowlen, Precinct 3 commissioner, who said that the average four-wire fence cannot be moved for less than $150.

Indict Youths For Feb. 6 Rape

David Keith, 21, of Matador and Gardie Malcolm Bryant, 18, of Hartley, were indicted Monday by the Randall County Grand Jury on charges of rape.

They are accused of raping an Amarillo teen-ager near the VFW Hall on Feb. 6. They were arrested the following day, and were released on bond after being arraigned by Justice of the Peace Carl Anderson.

The grand jury considered the case on March 10, but did not return an indictment until Monday. At the time of the alleged rape, Keith was a student at West Texas State and Bryant was a student at Lubbock Christian College.

The grand jury also indicted J. J. Suiter, 44, of Amarillo, and Jo Bailey Elliston, 54, of Hereford, for driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Three other indictments were returned, but those charged are not in custody.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

It is a known fact that clean tilled land has more runoff and greater erosion than land that is stubble mulched. Clean tillage is a major cause of wind erosion. In the Plains area this is a serious problem.

With stubble mulch the dead residue on the top of the soil are partly worked in will reduce the amount of run-off and will help hold the soil in place. By using sweeps and chisels, you can improve your soil. The dead residue will reduce the wind velocity at the surface, and the residue provides a place for the soil particles to lodge. The residue will also withstand the abrasive action of the soil particles.

When the stubble is heavy, some of it should be worked into the soil, leaving about half of it on top, will enable the farmer to work the land and prepare a good seed-bed. Too much residue on top will hinder the germination of the seeds.

Stubble mulching saves water. It keeps the soil at a lower temperature than clean tilled land. It keeps the soil from running together enabling it to increase the rate and the amount of infiltration. Stubble mulching properly performed will increase the yields and will enable the farmer to control both wind and water erosion.

Rotating the crops will help in maintaining good cover or residue on the land. This will help in maintaining the soil fertility. Rotation should be supplemented by using some of the conservation practices such as contouring, terracing, and strip cropping, rotating with legumes will also help build up the organic matter and nitrogen.

A good rotation usually provides for cash crops, feed crops and pasture. For this reason and because it improves the quantity and quality of crop yields a good rotation makes possible the fullest and best use all year, not only of the soil and equipment but also of labor, one of the largest items of cost in producing crops. Rotation supported by other soil conservation practices will insure a more dependable farm income.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leary, Manager

BIGGEST PARTY LINE IN TOWN

We're in the process of engineering a unique telephone arrangement for our volunteer firemen in Canyon.

It's sometimes difficult for everyone to hear the siren, so we will place a special telephone in some of the volunteer's homes. These telephones will be so arranged that one can pick up the receiver without stopping the ringing at the other telephones. They will all be on one big party line.

When a fire is reported, all of the telephones will start ringing at once. As each volunteer picks up his receiver he will hear the location of the fire.

It's going to require some special equipment at our central office which may take a few months to engineer, but it will sure be the biggest party line in Canyon when it's completed.

A PART OF GOOD LIVING

Nowadays, we hear the term "good living" quite often. I have a few ideas about it, but to find out what it means to other people, I brought up the subject with a group of friends a week or so ago.

Before the "good living" talk was over and the coffee served, one of the women made music for my ears by saying that the telephones in color in her home are certainly an important part of good living.

Everyone seemed to agree, and that gave me a chance to point out that extra telephones in bedrooms and kitchens are low in cost, too — just 75 cents a month plus installation. For color, you know, there's a one-time charge of $10.

P. S. I sold a couple, too.

LOOKING AHEAD TO EASTER

Easter Sunday, to most of us, is a happy, dress-up, go-to-church day for all the family. And I hope you and your family will all be together for a Happy Easter.

Unfortunately, some families are scattered and won't be gathered around the table for the carving of the ham.

For these families, a Long Distance visit or two by telephone is the answer. It's the next best thing to being there in person, and everyone has fun on an out-of-town call.

Naturally, low Sunday rates will be in effect. And if you call station-to-station, you can talk longer for less.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Anyone who drives around the high school knows the serious traffic problem during the noon hour and after school. The student council studied the situation and offered as a solution the Canyon High Safe Driving Program. The plan was accepted by a large majority of the student body in an election held Wednesday.

The CHS S.D. Program provides rules for driving, stickers and a student court.

Accepted as rules for driving were to obey all traffic laws, to obey student traffic officers, to angle park in the proper manner, not to back across both lanes of traffic when backing out of parking place, and no left turn onto Fifth Avenue when going south in front of school during time officers are on duty.

Driving stickers will be issued to all students with driving licenses. On the back will be the rules for driving and on front the lettering: I AM A CHS SAFE DRIVER, signed by the student. The stickers will be placed on the windshield of the car and taken off at the first appearance in the student court.

The student court will be made up of a judge, bailiff, prosecuting attorney, clerk and jury of six students. The four major officers will be elected each semester by the student body. The jury will be appointed each week. The jury will have four choices: A. The violator receives a warning; B. Assign an essay of stated length, to be turned in one week later to the court; C. Referred to the police department; and D. Not guilty.

The plan has the approval of the police department. Members of the Road Aces will act as the student traffic officers.

Ladies' fashions seem to disturb many men and boys. One high school boy was so confused with last year's fashions that he came to the conclusion that all lamp shades look like hats!

A school day in CHS need not be all work and no play. Two students proved this by playing cards during class. An hour in detention hall, however, soon set the daily schedule back to normal.

Plates Are Not Like Hot Dogs

One thing about it, license plates are not selling like hot dogs or hot cakes this year.

The Randall County tax office has stacks of the things, and they'd just as soon get rid of them now. One stack they'd like to cut down is the one of specially requested numbers. Many people have asked for numbers, but haven't come by to pick them up and the tax office workers need the space.

The other stack, or bunch of stacks, is the big one. Those are the plates of the people who haven't been by at all, and will have to purchase plates by April 1.

The tax office will stay open both this Saturday and next, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., to help motorists get their plates.

Easter Program To Be Presented

A program of Easter music has been scheduled for 7 p. m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church.

A highlight of the program will be the Easter Story as narrated by the Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor, with special music played by Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, organist, and Barbara Mathis, clarinetist.

The public is invited.

Water District Details Rules

Landowners who plan to drill an irrigation or commercial water well must furnish the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 with several bits of information—provided the land is inside the boundaries of the district and the well is expected to produce more than 69 gallons of water a minute.

The rules of the district provide that wells must be spaced certain minimum distances from wells in the vicinity. These distances are:

A 4-inch well must be a minimum distance of 200 yards from the nearest well.

A 5-inch well must be 250 yards. A 6-inch well must be 300 yards. An 8-inch well must be 400 yards.

A 10-inch well must be 440 yards.

The district rules also provide that a person who desires to drill a well must first obtain a permit. The person needs the following information:

1. Name and mailing address of the owner of the land.
2. Legal description of the land.
3. The measured distance from the proposed drilling site to the two nearest property lines or quarter-section lines.

4. The measured distance from the proposed drilling site to the three nearest wells. Distances to wells that are over 440 yards from the proposed site are not required.

A deposit of $10 is required with the filing of each application to drill. When the application form is filled out completely, it must be signed by three members of the county committee. When it is signed, the permit is valid for drilling one well only, and only at the location shown on the permit. It is valid for four months.

When the well is completed and the log of the underground formations is supplied to the county office on forms furnished by the district, the $10 deposit will be refunded. The landowner is responsible for furnishing the information.

February Was a Deathless Month

Randall County went through February without a traffic fatality on rural highways, Highway Patrol Sgt. D. W. Duggan has announced. The patrol investigated 10 accidents, with nine persons injured in five of the accidents. There was a total of $12,965 in property damage.

The sergeant said that too many people look upon driving as a thing apart — something divorced from the code of morality which governs the other activities of their lives. The result of this split thinking is a staggering annual traffic toll.

To reduce the death rate during 1959, Sgt. Duggan stressed the necessity for drivers, as well as pedestrians, to maintain vigilance and observe the lifesaving rules of the road. He urged greater compliance with the speeding and driving-while-intoxicated laws, pointing out that in 1958 these were prime factors in traffic accidents.

Inspection Date Coming Closer

Only 45 per cent of the vehicles registered in Region No. 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have been safety inspected for 1959, according to Capt. Alan Johnson, MVI supervisor in the region.

With slightly less than one month separating them from the April 15 deadline, 236,679 motorists of the 60-county region still have not obtained their stickers.

The number includes about 10,000 vehicles in Randall County, the captain said.

Many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline rolls nearer because the inspection stations will not be able to cope with the last minute rush, he said.
